"He is the poet of the world, with tender patience leading it by his vision of truth, beauty, and goodness."

—Alfred N. Whitehead

Each Season Brings Its Rich Beauty

The front campus presents a beautiful summer night-time setting.

In the spring the central attraction on campus becomes encircled with rich greenery and colorful flowers.

To Sacred Heart's Campus

With the coming of winter the campus is lined by a glistening white blanket of snow.

In the early autumn the colorful leaves drift down upon the grounds of the front campus.

Old Traditions Blend With Modern

Then the Students and Alumnae turned a spade of earth.

Mr. Thomas Baugh assists Sister M. Stephen, President, in breaking ground for the new dorm.

Student Residence
Scheduled for Completion in 1965

Civilized man advances in all fields of his intellectual pursuits. His increased knowledge pushes the boundaries of truth forward; the area of his knowledge broadens. This increased knowledge presents a challenging problem. School prepares the student of today to know the heritage of truth from the past to see the truths of the present, and correlate himself to the discoveries of the future. As man's sphere of knowledge widens, his preparation in this knowledge increases.

Sacred Heart College has expanded its program to meet the challenges of a world of growing complexity. Quantitatively, it has increased, not only the number of its courses, but the size of its campus as well. Qualitatively, it has added depth and enrichment to all of its courses. It has thrown light on the past, kept abreast with the new and prepared us for the future.

Our school has grown, and continues to grow with the times, to blend old traditions with modern.

Most Rev. Vincent S. Waters, D.D.
Bishop of Raleigh

Bishop Charles B. McLaughlin is a devoted shepherd, and a capable administrator. He has done much for Catholic education, active in the youth apostolate, and has a great interest in vocations.

Churches throughout the Diocese are a tribute to the zeal of His Excellency, Bishop Waters.

A great and wise leader for Christ, Bishop Waters has been fair in dealing with people in world situations. He was farsighted in desegregation, and he is very progressive in his compliance with the wishes of the Holy Fathers, John XXIII and Pius VI in updating the liturgy.

Sanctity and learning are his yet he has a warm and humble approach to people. We are inspired to greater holiness and zeal whenever we are in his presence.

Most Rev. Charles B. McLaughlin, D.D.

Rev. Mother Mary James, R.S.M.
Chairman of Board of Trustees

In our president, Sister Stephen, we have a religious leader whose life embodies the high ideals which we hope to achieve, and a scholar who is seriously dedicated to the pursuit of wisdom and truth.

Reverend Mother Mary James is an excellent administrator. She has keen perceptions and immediately recognizes persons and events for what they are. Faith is one of her most essential qualities. She is queenly and gracious, and readily puts one at ease. She is always religious, dynamic, and inspiring.

Dr. Zelma George

Doctor George, an eminent Sociologist sponsored by the Danforth Foundation, was a rare treat—a wonderfully inspiring guest.

Mrs. Dorothy Lewis Griffith

Mrs. Dorothy Lewis Griffin performed in Town Hall the week after she was at Sacred Heart where she was highly acclaimed as a great artist and musician.

Karen Duke, a charming young balladeer presented "Songs With Guitar" Songs both old and new, American and International.

Dr. Robert Spaight

Mr. Spaight is a Fellow in the Royal Society of Literature. He has written novels, criticisms and biographies. The Danforth visiting Lecturers are sponsored by the Association of American College Arts Program which brings eminent artists and thinkers into intimate association with students and faculty.

Rt. Rev. Walter Coggin, O.S.B., entertained on the campus with his original slides and lectures of Belmont Abbey College and of the Ecumenical Council. If one becomes great by being apprenticed to greatness we have had marvelous opportunities through the Cultural Arts Program this year. Orchids to the Fine Arts Committee.

REALIZE, O JESUS, YOUR PRESENCE AMONG US FOR WE ARE GATHERED TOGETHER IN YOUR NAME — TO LOVE, TO UNDERSTAND, TO BE ONE, FOR YOUR GLORY AND THE COMMUNI-

This unusual retreat was given by Rev. Craynor F. Graves who had with him a team made up of a cross section of vocations in the Sister M. Annella and Mickey Casey (an Alumna of Sacred Heart College) are shown at the Christmas Party at Saint Benedict's School for Children who wish to improve their scholastic attainments.

Rev. James A. Keenan, Pastor of Queen of Apostles Church, is seen with Teresa Colletta, Frances Colletta and Mary Tedesco. Father Keenan is chaplain for the Children of Mary at Sacred Heart College. C.C.D. workers are also under his direction.

JOANNE COUTURIER AND PAT SHOWFETY HAVE BEEN SELECTED FOR WORK AMONG UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILDREN FOR THE SUMMER OF 1965. Here they are discussing plans with Barbara Worthington.

Last year volunteers built homes, assisted in a literacy-learning program, gave pre-school training to disadvantaged children, brought love and affection and understanding to a class of mentally retarded children, drove bookmobiles all over the North Carolina mountains, bringing the outside world to isolated families.

TARIAN WELFARE OF THE CHURCH, OF THE WHOLE

WHERE THERE IS CHARITY
AND LOVE
THERE IS GOD.

Church — 2 priests, one brother, five Sisters of various orders and one married couple.

Confraternity of Christian Doctrine teachers on the way to their Wednesday Evening Class. Mary Anne Vail, Joanne Shaver and Cathy Byrne.

To obtain knowledge we must submit to the discipline of study.

Being apprenticed to greatness in the study of the Masters under the tutelage of Sister Cecilia isn't too relaxing but its pays great dividends.

The Christian student says with Thomas Aquinas, "Out of love for Thee have I studied, watched through many nights and exerted myself."

The student finds herself solving all problems by modern math even when she shops at the super market. This subject is both intriguing and practical.

Wise or sublimely kind men and women, give us the impression of beauty far more than many artists can. Sister Theophane does this besides teaching Art Appreciation.

The wonderful world of Nature gives an appreciation of beauty and is often a preparation for a career in some of the professions related to Medicine.

A knowledge of the highest things even if imperfect here on earth, gives to the human mind its highest perfection. Thomas Aquinas
